SG60: BUILDING OUR SINGAPORE TOGETHER

To mark the 60th year of Singapore's independence, Singaporeans can look forward to a host of activities throughout 2025 to celebrate our journey to date and shape the next chapter of the Singapore story.

2 The theme of SG60 is “Building Our Singapore Together”. This builds on the Forward Singapore exercise, in which Singaporeans affirmed their commitment to a renewed social compact. SG60 aims to celebrate our nation-building journey and reflect on our shared values of multiculturalism, boldness, resilience and openness¹ that have united us and allowed us to prosper against the odds over the past 60 years. It will also be an occasion to rally Singaporeans to build our future Singapore together.

3 Many major programmes in SG60 speak to these shared values and encourage Singaporeans to reflect, uphold and live out these values. Examples include Chingay, Exercise SG Ready, Singapore World Water Day, Racial & Religious Harmony Month, the Singapore Pavilion at Expo 2025 Osaka, and the World Aquatics Championships – Singapore 2025.

4 We also hope that SG60 programmes will rally Singaporeans to build our future Singapore together and be platforms to Connect, Contribute and show Care:

(i) Connect Singaporeans with one another

SG60 programmes aim to provide opportunities for meaningful connections, bringing Singaporeans together through shared experiences that transcend age, race, language and religion. Examples include the National Day celebrations, Project Citizens – The First Million, and GetActive! Singapore.

(ii) Contribute to our refreshed social compact under ForwardSG

Ministry of Culture, Community and Youth

Many SG60 programmes will offer opportunities for Singaporeans to partner with one another, as well as contribute ideas and co-create solutions to build the Singapore we want in the next chapter of our Singapore story. These include community engagement programmes for the World Aquatics Championships, where volunteers will be activated to help drive some of its activations, as well as engagements such as NYC and PA's SG60 Youth Engagements and URA's Draft Master Plan Exhibition. Individuals and organisations can also develop their own programmes and initiatives to celebrate and commemorate this milestone and what it represents.

(iii) Care for Others

SG60 is also an opportunity to show care for and give back to our community. There will be platforms for Singaporeans to donate and volunteer to support those in need, including a new nation-wide giving programme by Community Chest that will be rolled out in 2025. More details will be shared at a later date.

5 We encourage all Singaporeans to participate in the nation-wide programmes to commemorate our nation-building journey. The programmes will span sectors such as sustainability, sports and digital technology, while reaching diverse groups including youths, families and businesses. They include programmes that are familiar to Singaporeans but organised at a larger scale with new programme elements for SG60. Many corporates and community and ground-up groups are also planning their own efforts to mark SG60 in a meaningful way. Please see Annex for more details.

6 In commemorating SG60 together, we hope that Singaporeans can step forward and take action to make the lives of fellow Singaporeans better, partner with one another and contribute to building a stronger Singapore together.
